What is Khadi?

Khadi is a hand-spun and hand-woven natural fiber fabric, primarily cotton, often made on a spinning wheel called a charkha. It is a symbol of Indian independence and self-reliance, popularized by Mahatma Gandhi.

Good shop. People are friendly. Rates are reasonable. But the shop is for lower middle class people. Don't expect high quality clothes. If you need economical range, nothing is better than this.

I was looking for 4 Kurtas to send to my bother in law in US. Mr Srinivas of Janata Khadi Bhandar helped me over phone and What's App in selecting khadi cloth , how to take measurements for fitting and got it stitched in just 1 day as promised as readymade kurta of required size were not available. Thank you.

They have good variety in pure khadi readymade kurtas and material both. They also give stitching service in case you choose the material. Found bit costly though.
Their staff is very supportive and helpful.
